Vaccinating America by the Numbers

Of the 330 million Americans, approximately 260 million are adults. According to a recent Gallup poll surveying adults willing to be vaccinated, 58% indicated they would take the vaccine. With the two leading vaccines requiring 2 doses over time, this would mean that over 300 million vaccines would be administered. This doesn't account for those under 18 years of age.

Where Will Vaccines be Administered?

Dedicated physical spaces will need to be established in order to administer this volume of vaccinations. Hamilton has created easy to install structures to allow for orderly and organized administration.

These structures are made in the USA.

USAGE

Units can be used for vaccine administration and/or testing.

CONFIGURATION

We can provide single units or multiples in a row sharing common walls. Overall structures can be accessed from one side or on two sides. Lockable storage available.

ASSEMBLY

Structures can be assembled with a hex key and go up fast and easy. Adding to, reconfiguring and moving are simple for maximum flexibility.
